Dear Ms Markopoulou,

thank you for your reply.

Unfortunately there is nothing we can do. This is the standard operating procedure of Austrian Airlines. If other airlines have different procedures that is not something we would influence. We are an austrian based company and uphold the uphold the necessary procedures according to austrian law. Thank you for your understanding.

Kind regards

Dear Mr. Fend,

Thank you for your response.

However, I must insist that an invoice be issued in the name of my company, AEGIS IT RESEARCH GmbH, as this trip was strictly for business purposes and the reimbursement process requires a proper invoice issued to the company. Other airline providers, such as Aegean Airlines, do offer this service upon request, and I expect Austrian Airlines to provide the same level of support.

The passenger receipt alone is not sufficient for our internal accounting and audit requirements. The absence of the company name and VAT number on the document renders it unusable for official reimbursement purposes, regardless of national VAT exemptions.

I kindly ask that you reconsider this request and issue a proper invoice reflecting the company details.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation. I look forward to your prompt response.

Sincerely,
Styliani-Panagiota Markopoulou

Dear Ms MARKOPOULOU,

many thanks for your message!

The Passenger Receipts issued by Austrian Airlines are compliant with requirements stipulated by Austrian VAT law (Sec 11 (9) VAT act "Fahrausweise") and thus constitute valid invoices in accordance with Sec 11 VAT act.

The Passenger Receipt can be used to claim travel expenses and input VAT in combination with the corresponding credit card slip or debit slip. It is not necessary to state the full name or address of the recipient on tickets ("Fahrausweise") in accordance to Sec 11 (9) VAT act.

The name stated on the ticket indicates the passenger entitled to travel and not the recipient.

Please note that VAT is only applicable on domestic flights. Tickets and passenger receipts issued for travel on international flights do not show any VAT, as the services are VAT exempt.

Freundliche Grüße
